

FLOOD WARNING SYSTEM

The Monroe County Office of Emergency Management in coordination with the National Weather Service relays updates of threatening weather to government and media outlets. These advisories are broadcast on local radio and television stations. Monroe County is subject to coastal flooding conditions due to tropical storms and hurricanes.